Mr. Chris Orestis
President
Life Care Funding Group

Dear Mr. Orestis,

I have been trying to write this letter to you for months. I am taking this opportunity to do it now. Words cannot describe the 5 years in my fathers life and in mine. He went from a vibrant man who owns his own business, apartment buildings, home- to bankrupt, homeless, and sick. Everything he saved for his whole life in 1 year was gone. He was a very frugal and smart business man. My dad was always a planner and if I was not going through this with him I would never believe that this could happen!

His sickness and operations and the closing of his business took all his financial security away. I was taking care of him for the three years of his sickness physically and financially. I bought him a nice condo to live and we were managing. Two years ago my husbands successful electrical business of 25 years disappeared with the economy. I could no longer afford my dad's expensive medicines and his living expenses. He was growing more ill and needed more care and I could not afford assisted living.

Then I saw your ad online and it saved our lives! Your representative Jane Kremer is an angel! She talked with me everyday and became a friend. She listened to my emotional breakdowns on my bad days with my dad, just like a family member. We had some problems and you and your company created a program for me and my father and you gave him back his dignity!

He was upset that he was a financial burden on me and my husband causing a lot of strain on our marriage. Life Care Funding took all that away. Your company moved swiftly and got the job done with your long term care benefit plan. I cannot express to you the burden off of me. I still am going through my dad dying, but I don't have to worry every night how I am going to care for him, how can I get his medicine, where I am going to come up with the money to meet his medical needs as he grows weaker each day.

With your program he is in his condo, looking out his window, two care takers are tending to his every need. If he wants toast at 4:00am he gets it, if he wants a back rub he gets it. His family has the opportunity to come and spend time with him. My heart is filled with joy because he is my daddy and I want the best for him until the day he dies!

When I first approached this idea, not anyone in my circle of friends/family heard of such a thing, and quite frankly, they called it "ambulance chasing". I told them I felt differently because we had no money to take care of dad and I would welcome the help and would not mind converting his life insurance policy which we could not afford to keep. Many of my business friends said I would never get that kind of money for the policy. Well they were wrong. I get the money every month on time and I would be happy tell talk to any of your clients who are skeptical. Your company is the real deal- in a world where it seems like no one cares. You treated my father and myself with respect, love, concern -I will be forever grateful!! One more thing Chris, Jane needs a raise! She is what every CEO prays for to represent his company! She is priceless!

Thank You and God Bless You,
